Recommended Text:

Samuel E. Stumpf and James Fieser, Socrates to Sartre and Beyond, 7th Ed. (McGraw-Hill, 2003)

Learning Objectives:

- Identify and understand the tension in Christian ethics between "Christian" and "ethics"

- See ethics as an integral part of Christian theology
- Identify and understand the philosophical concepts and methods that are employed within contemporary Christian ethics
- Compare and understand the distinct theological perspectives in terms of concepts and methods within contemporary Christian ethics
- Articulate these understandings in the form of two case studies, the one using philosophical perspectives, the other using theological perspectives, for the purpose of understanding what “Christian” distinctively adds to “ethics”

Grading: Based on class participation and two case studies.
